CODE 99 Not stated/inadequately described

Includes all contacts where the relationship of the person to the child was not recorded.

Data element attributes

Collection and usage attributes

Guide for use:	This refers to the personal or professional capacity of the person who is making the contact. For example, if a person contacts the department as a concerned neighbour and in the conversation it becomes apparent that this person is a police officer, this person is still recorded as a neighbour, as they did not call in their capacity as a police officer.
Collection methods:	This item should be recorded at the time of the contact to the community services department. If a notification is made more than once about the same event, then only the first contact is recorded. Therefore, only the first person to notify about the event should be recorded.
