Dwelling—vacancy reason

Identifying and definitional attributes

Metadata item type: Data Element Concept

METEOR identifier: 459080

Registration status: Housing assistance, Superseded 30/08/2017

Definition: The reason a dwelling is untenanted.

Object Class attributes

Identifying and definitional attributes

Object class: Dwelling

Definition: A structure or a discrete space within a structure intended for people to live in or where a person or group of people live. Thus a structure that people actually live in is a dwelling regardless of its intended purpose, but a vacant structure is only a dwelling if intended for human residence. A dwelling may include one or more rooms used as an office or workshop provided the dwelling is in residential use.

Context: Dwellings are the main counting unit in the housing sector. Dwellings are reported for a variety of purposes including number of untenantable or tenantable, and occupied or vacant dwellings. Dwellings may be owned and/or, managed, and/or available for a use by a specific program, including head-leased stock from private and government sources. A dwelling includes a boarding house building and boarding house units.

Specialisation of: Environmental factors

Collection and usage attributes

Guide for use: Boarding house rooms or beds are not identified as separate dwellings unless they are self-contained. Self-contained rooms are therefore defined as units and are counted as a separate dwelling.

For the public rental housing and state owned and managed Indigenous housing data collections, the number of tenancy (rental) units is used as a proxy for counting the number of dwellings.
