Specialisation of

The following information is applicable to Object classes only.

Definition

The parent Object class and the facet by which the Object class is a specialisation of the parent Object class.

Obligation

Conditional completion: mandatory completion for Object classes which are specialisations of another Object class.

Development rules

The name of the specialisation should first include the name of the parent Object class followed in brackets by the facet by which the Object class is a specialisation of the parent Object class. For example, the specialisation of the Adult Object class is Person (Age group).
