

Health behaviours

Aspects of personal behaviour and risk factors that epidemiological studies have shown to influence health status. Examples include smoking rate and physical activity.