Definition: The Australian Institute of Health and Welfare classification for mental health interventions.

Context: The purpose of the classification is to describe and capture information on selected mental health interventions provided to mental health consumers in Australia.

Classification structure: The classification is initially grouped into four broad categories:

· assessment and review interventions therapeutic interventionsemergency interventions

· service coordination interventions

Further subdivision occurs within each of these four categories to provide a detailed list of selected mental health interventions
