

Fifth National Mental Health and Suicide Prevention Plan Framework

The Fifth Plan framework provides a framework to monitor progress against agreed outcomes and performance indicators from the Fifth National Mental Health and Suicide Prevention Plan. The Fifth Plan framework stems from the National Mental Health Commission's 2014 National Review of Mental Health Programmes and Services, which was developed in partnership with mental health consumers and carers, and takes a person-centred approach to national performance reporting.

Dimensions of this framework

- Better physical health and living longer
- Effective support, care and treatment
- Good mental health and wellbeing
- Healthy start to life
- Less avoidable harm
- Meaningful and contributing life
- Stigma and discrimination
